

is too hard. They can't really afford to hire a crew, so here's what bright idea they came up with. Those men that they take along with them on their cruises will have to function as "galley slaves," to use their term. Some experience is, of course necessary. The girls giggle, "the work is hard, but there are fringe benefits."

COULD YOU HAVE LILI?

Lili Sharles, 22, does not come easy. Or so her friends say.

"It will take some man to make Lili his own," one proud girlfriend insists. "She's worth a lot in many ways, and she knows it so Lili can afford to wait for the right man to come along. Until then, she's perfectly happy to live life free and easy as she has been."

Lili is an actress out in Southern California. Not Hollywood yet, but it won't be long now, we're sure. Just take another look at her! She's been doing theatrical parts on the stage ever since she dropped out of college where she was majoring in drama. Fellow actors say that she's actually very good, beyond her looks. We have a feeling that's true. Sometimes you can just tell about a person.

Lili comes from a large family, three brothers and two sisters. She's one of the three oldest. She'd like a large family of her own one day. If only Mr. Right would come along...

A SAUCY SENORITA!

Rosalita Vasquez, 19, from Puerto Rico, has no lack of Latin fire in her. That's for sure! Like the wise guys who had had too much to drink and tried to get tough with her on the streets of New York City last summer found out. She belted one of them so hard with a right hook to the mouth, his teeth fell out!

The other one was rendered a blow of a different sort to a private area by the tip of Rosalita's adorable little foot. "Aie!" she exclaims. "I just cannot stand these idiots." Is she sorry she hit them so hard? "No! What did they want to do to me, after all? I would do the same thing again!"

FROM ORGY! CAN'T A CAT
HAVE SOME FUN WITHOUT EVERYBODY PEEKING?

Rosalita has been living in New York City for fourteen years now. She speaks very good English, naturally since she was a small child when she came here. She is single but looks forward to getting married and living a hard, simple, unglamorous life, despite her extremely good looks with which she could forge a much more colorful life for herself. As a model she already is doing very well. "But I'm not that type," she says. "I'm a home-body."

SOMEONE TO TAKE CARE OF CLOE

Cloe Marshall, 24, in her own words, is "a big baby!" She wants someone to take care of her, to comfort her, to make her feel secure and wanted. "I guess I just never grew up," she pouts-apologetically. We think that Cloe must know how charming she is, especially when she acts that way. We don't think she'll have much trouble getting someone to make her feel wanted and cared for her.

Born in St. Louis Missouri in the month of May Cloe has finished college where she has studied history. Does she want to teach? "Yes, on the high school level," she affirms. But not for a while. First she wants to travel a bit and meet people.

WHAT- EVER LOLA WANTS...

Lola Anderson, 24, has a certain special way about her. It's apparently a combination of charm, seductiveness and know-how. But whatever it is, it's certainly an asset to her. For it gets her almost anything she wants from anyone she's with. "Whatever I want, I always seem to be able to get it from any man I'm with at the time," she marvels. "I don't understand it, really, but I'm afraid I'll jinx it, if I gloat." You won't blow it, Lola.

SANDY, THE SUN GIRL

Sandy Reynolds, 22, is one of the most athletic, sun-worshipping kids we've met. She's a full-down hair-cow with dyed and a frantic travel schedule that takes her wherever she can find a zesty tan. She's a member of the "Take a Mind Body and Soul" club. "I love the sun, as I can surf in the sun with my friends and do a few

JAGUAR'S PUSSYCAT

QUEEN OF THE ISSUE

Phyllis Kane, 21, did not have much trouble winning our Pussycat Queen of the Issue contest this month. She has more than enough of the looks, charm and character that it takes. But she seemed surprised and thrilled when she got the news nonetheless. "Eeeek!" she screamed when we telephoned her at her parents' home, where she lives, in Bridgeport, Connecticut. "You're kidding! Oh, I just can't believe it! This is wonderful! Oh, I'm so—so flipped out!" Wow! It sure was fun listening to her. It's nice to make people happy. Phyllis agrees. That's why she allowed us to use these pictures of her in all her alluring naked beauty.

Phyllis (her friends from childhood call her Phil) is studying the concert piano. We're pleased to say that we've listened to her play, and, in our opinion, she's ready for Carnegie Hall right now! She has, in fact, already given several recitals to super-enthusiastic audiences, and she always is the life of any party when she sits down and knocks out some swinging pop numbers on the "eighty-eights," but she says she still must study a good deal more, if she wants to really be a first-class serious pianist. When she's not playing the piano she likes to read, engage in water sports and date. "I'm very sociable," she says.

A KISS TO TAKE THE PAIN AWAY

Rosalie, 21 doesn't believe in acting her age. That is, she feels it is foolish to inhibit your personality just because you feel you're "too old" to act a certain way. "If my boyfriend, when I have them, yells at me or hits me or even spanks me, and I break down crying, I'm not embarrassed, when he tries to make up, to ask him to kiss my tears away, like a baby, or even to make where he hit me feel better with a kiss." She's certainly a very charming babe, isn't she?

Paula Pennil's games are not really new, but they're subtle. At 20 years of age, she has a remarkable shrewdness about her. She likes to tease and to punish—not in a big way, just little deprivations and remonstrations for being a naughty boy. But if you put up with the way she likes things done, she can be a very rewarding girl. "I can't help it I'm just a game-player at heart," she says with a mischievous smile. "I don't mean any harm by it. And nobody seems to mind very much, really. It just makes things more fun."

HOW TO PLAY
PAULA'S GAMES

Paula is really a very friendly girl with a bubbly, funny personality—the type that likes to play harmless, practical jokes. “Everybody says that to me everything is a joke,” she says. “I wouldn’t say that, but I do like to laugh a lot and to make others laugh.”

LOVE AND EVERYTHIN'

Penelope Fern, 21, is just a "down-home girl from the hills of Tennessee," according to her own account. And she's a very good advertisement for so-called "hillbilly" living and Southern hospitality. Says Penny, "I believe in today's values, modern ones, you know, like love and everythin'."

EVER WORK ON A GALLEY?

Terri Murphy, 21, and Danielle Dubois, 19, have recently purchased a yacht in which they would like to take pleasure cruises. They don't, however, know how to run it, and, anyway, the work
